

THE DEMANDS OF A HARD UP COMMUNITY MUST BE MET.

THIS WEEK we call your attention to some telling bargains in CLOTHING and MILLINERY. Last week was a rouser, far exceeding anything we have ever had in the spring trade. Why? Because we have got the stock to select from and always give value received and more too. Our system of selling every article at a small profit, but of a thoroughly reliable quality, has placed us in the lead.

KEEP COOL

Never have there been displayed in this town so many rare novelties in Light Weight Coats and Vests as we have in stock this season; also something new in White and Fancy Vests. There is a broad smile on our face, a joyous twinkle in our eye, supreme satisfaction shining in every feature, as we proclaim ourselves

MONARCHS OF THE CLOTHING ARENA.

If you only knew the value of our Clothing, the excellence of its manufacture, the perfection of make and fit, the real worth of its durability, the low prices in every department, you could not help but take us.

MILLINERY.

For the last two weeks this department has been thronged day and night with busy buyers. The selection, style and price is bound to draw the trade. This is our first spring in this line, therefore you will find nothing but the latest styles and all fresh from headquarters. Everybody has a word of praise in our behalf. We are determined to keep business up by keeping the price down.

crop at present, should we have no cold snaps.

The meazles are in the southeastern part of our township.

BEAR CREEK.

Some of our farmers are trying the sugar cane.

Mr. E. W. Kennedy has put up a wire fence.

Mr. T. W. Sligh has a fine field of oats on the Columbia road above his residence.

Mr. L. Sharp is selling home raised corn.

ROCK CITY ROCKETS.

Wherein Rock City is Like the "City by the Sea"—The Quarry Sluggers Ready for the Diamond—Personals.

The committee appointed to raise funds to build a church for the quarry made their report, many hundred names, with many hundred dollars and cent marks, like the Hotel Eden in the "City by the Sea"—all on paper.

Mr. A. W. St. Amant, manager W. G. Co., made a visit to his home last week, business and pleasure combined.

At a meeting held a few nights ago, looking to forming a base ball club, Mr. A. M. Creighton was called to the chair, and L. D. Robertson requested to act as secretary. Mr. C., on taking the chair, thanked them kindly for the honor and in a few well chosen remarks advocated the forming of a first-class nine. The meeting immediately went into business and elected the following nine:

Jack Allen, captain; Bob Nickolson, umpire; George Pratt, pitcher; J. B. Scroggie, catcher; Dave Allen, 1st base; T. J. Perry, 2nd base; C. L. Smith, 3rd base; Dave Marr, short stop; J. Humphries, right field; John Baum, center field; W. F. Rutland, left field; W. H. Walling, keeper of bats and balls. They will immediately go into practice and in ten days will be open to any challenge that may be offered in the State. The club will be called the "Redding Block Nine," the uniform will be blue caps, red shirts, white knee pants and blue stockings, regulation belt. The suits have all been ordered.

The blockmakers are all pitching their tents to work under during the summer.

Mr. D. Robertson has resigned the postmastership at Rockton, S. C., having accepted the clerkship at the quarry store.

Mr. C. L. Smith has turned his attention to raising birds, and has given up his stable
